Congress Turns to All-Important Task of Paring Government Expenses

RESCUE 2500 IN FLOOD AREA

FEDERAL FINANCES IN BAD CONDITION WITH BIG DEFICIT

SENATOR PAT HARRISON DRAWS PICTURE OF WHERE AXE SWINGERS MIGHT BEGIN

(Copyright, 1932, by United Press)
Washington, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—Congress is about to be put to the test in the drastic job of putting a ruthless axe to the wild growth of government expenses.

It is beginning the work of passing the annual appropriation bills for operation of the government. The first one, the agricultural bill, was ready for consideration by the house today.

Elections Form Threat
Congress turns to this work faced by the most serious peacetime conditions of federal finances. At the same time election year politics threatens to weaken the good resolutions with which members are digging into their thankless task.

Two figures show the size of the job. In the coming year the government may have to raise nearly $10,000,000,000 to cover running expenses, deficits, the finance corporation, farm loan boards, the home building banks and other measures. It can count on only about $3,500,000,000 of this from taxes. The remainder must be borrowed. With some government bonds now selling for about 83 cents on the dollar, the necessity of congress pulling in its belt and slashing expenses even at the most of hurting some feelings is recognized generally.

Costs Have Grown
Beginning on the most obvious items—the government departments, a scanning of the figures shows that costs have leaped up two and sometimes four times in the last few years. These costs creep in insidiously—a few more employees for this bureau, a few new buildings for that. Congressmen showed their willingness to begin cutting on themselves a few days ago when they struck out of the first deficiency appropriation bill $700,000 for enlarging their individual offices at the capitol.

Senator Pat Harrison, Dem., Miss., has shown where the axe swingers might look for something to do. He has taken the appropriations for 1924 and compared them with the amounts asked for this year by President Hoover. Some of the larger jumps are as follows:

Agriculture department:
Market news service—$401,000 to $1,406,000.
Plant service bureau—$2,426,000 to $5,404,000.
Commerce department:
Bureau of foreign and domestic commerce—$1,900,000 to $4,986,531.
Lighthouse—$7,565,000 to $10,943,858.

Interior department:
Indian schools—$4,300,000 to $10,649,000.

Justice department:
Salaries, fees and expenses, marshals—$3,300,000 to $4,430,000.
Salaries and expenses, attorneys—$2,440,000 to $3,813,000.

Labor department:
Immigration bureau—$3,002,775 to $10,707,030.

Employment service—$220,000 to $820,000.

Navy department:
Yards and docks—$5,075,000 to $12,860,000.

Engineering—$11,190,000 to $18,373,000.

Postoffice department:
Clerks and employees, first and second class postoffices—$117,000,000 to $183,000,000.

Rural delivery service—$86,000,000 to $106,000,000.

State department:
Total—$4,000,000 to $6,811,000.

Treasury department:
Expenses of customs collection—$11,000,000 to $23,000,000.

Operation and maintenance of public buildings—$9,000,000 to $16,797,000.

War department:
Pay, retired officers list—$7,000,000 to $9,447,000.

Pay, retired enlisted men—$7,000,000 to $12,252,000.

Barracks and quarters—$3,116,000 to $14,736,000.

River and harbor maintenance and improvement—$27,000,000 to $60,000,000.

POLICE TAKE ACTION AFTER FALLS GIRL IS HURT BY SNOWBALLS

Miss Louise Crossfield, Little Falls, today recovered from lacerations suffered when a gang of boys pelted her with icy snowballs as police sought to roundup the gang.

The boys had prepared a heap of the missiles and awaited their first victim on an empty lot, police were told. As Miss Crossfield came in sight they began to throw until one snowball felled her. The boys ran when Miss Crossfield was hurt, it was said.

Seeks Smith Indorsement by Minnesota Democrats

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—A new problem wearing a brown derby confronted Minnesota Democrats today with the announcement by James R. Bennett, Jr., St. Cloud, that he would attempt to obtain the state's delegation to the national convention for former Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York.

Bennett returned from conferences with eastern Democrats last night. He said he would attempt to obtain recognition for the 1928 presidential nominee just as he did for William Randolph Hearst in 1904.

Democrats in the state so far had been announced for Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York who succeeded Smith in office as Empire State executive. They had paid high tributes to Newton D. Baker and former Senator James Reed of Missouri but the active campaign—to the extent that there had been any—had been for Roosevelt. If Bennett wins any considerable strength the issue in Minnesota will become whether Roosevelt or Smith is to be selected as the presidential nominee this year.

"Smith possesses the ability, magnificent integrity, masterly understanding of governmental control and especially the courage to stand boldly by his convictions," Bennett said. "He is a true, loyal and sincere American citizen who is not tainted with internationalism and who never will consent to any entangling alliances with other nations. I intend to start at once a campaign for a Smith delegation from Minnesota to the national convention."

Bennett said he would open headquarters for the former New York governor at St. Cloud, his home town.

BANK MESSENGER GIVES UP $6,000 AS STATE AID PROPOSAL PASSENGERS WATCH IN FINANCE PLAN

BANDITS STAGE "WILD WEST" HOLDUP ON TRAIN NEAR CHICAGO SUBURB

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—Two robbers held up 30 passengers on a Northwestern commuters' train at Irving Park station, Chicago, today and stole $6,000 from a girl bank messenger.

The "Wild West" style train robbery occurred as the train, filled with loop bound office workers, slowed down for the Avondale station. Although other passengers were terrorized, only Miss Marcella Bergman was robbed.

The girl, a messenger for the Edison Park State and Savings Bank, Irving Park, had $5,000 in checks and $1,000 in cash she was taking to the bank.

"Hands up, everybody; this is a holdup," one of the robbers said as he leveled a revolver at the car full of commuters.

Then the other robber seized Miss Bergman's handbag, containing the money. None of the other passengers was molested.

RELIEF FUND ENCOURAGES USE FEDERAL BULLETIN; FORMS UNEMPLOYMENT UNIT

Incorporation of an unemployment committee in the Brainerd Community Relief fund was in progress today following a called meeting of the board of directors Saturday night during which the board also encouraged the case committee to use a government bulletin as a basis for further help.

Needs of the average family are outlined in the bulletin which also tells what food it takes per capita and per family. In insisting upon the adoption of the bulletin, members explained to the board that it would simplify relief work and would form a definite guide by which the relief organization could proceed with its work.

Function of the unemployment committee will be to ferret out positions for the jobless and to promote "made work" as far as possible. The following have been invited to serve on the committee: Mayor H. C. Greger, E. H. Rhodes, Alan D. Masters, H. I. Cohen and Mrs. E. J. Quinn.

Closer investigation of all cases and loosening of the purse strings of the fund was in evidence today. It was brought out that there is no centralized investigating unit, the organization relying upon the efforts of the city health nurse, the Salvation Army and the executive secretary to take care of this all-important phase of the relief work.

MURRAY CARRIES FIGHT FOR 'EASY MONEY' POLICY BY STATES TO HALLS OF CONGRESS

Washington, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—Raw-boned and bluff Governor "Alfalfa Bill" Murray of Oklahoma invaded the halls of Congress today to advocate a bill that would permit the states to inaugurate a "cheap money" policy and would give them broader powers in handling credits.

The picturesque governor, who has brought to the east notice of his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination, appeared before the House ways and means committee. He urged adoption of a bill by Rep. McKeown, Democrat, Oklahoma, which would repeal the ten per cent tax now levied on currency issued by state banks.

Murray laid the troubles of the country to control of the nation's credit by big bankers and pictured dire consequences unless credit is made easier for farmers.

"Next winter will be worse than this, and by the following winter the biggest banks in the country will fail," Murray soon launched into an attack on speculators. He asserted the

DEFEATS PROPOSAL PERMITTING STATES AND CITIES TO BORROW FROM CREDIT UNIT

Washington, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—For the second time the Senate today voted down a proposal that states and cities be permitted to borrow from the administrations $2,000,000,000 emergency credit corporation. The mayors of New York and Boston have petitioned for Senate for such aid. The Senate also rejected a proposal to permit counties to borrow.

The amendment was defeated by a vote of 53 to 24.

President Hoover's $2,000,000,000 emergency credit project is in a legislative jam.

Both houses have passed the measure which is the keystone of Mr. Hoover's domestic relief program. But they differ materially in two economic features and in one important political matter.

A demand for a published financial statement at the close of each month was also registered today. With more than $4,000 in the fund and still some pledges yet outstanding, contributors believe that at the present rate of disbursement the fund will show a balance of between $2,000 and $2,500 at the close of the time when the drain of the fund is the heaviest. They cite this sum as being adequate to handle all cases in a more liberal manner and, they say, should conditions become so severe that the fund needs replenishing the people would rally to a call for aid at once.

Rev. F. A. Kufus presided at the meeting in the absence of Dr. J. A. Thabes, president. Those present included Mrs. A. D. Dieckhaus, Eula Michael, A. R. Falconer, Mrs. W. H. Gemmell, D. C. Gray, Mrs. J. H. Herbert, Mrs. W. H. Mannis, Captain Thom S. D. H. Fullerton and Mrs. Robert Elder.

Members of the case committee today declared that all cases were being handled according to recommendation of the investigators. In no instances were the recommendations not adhered to, one member said. "The public is not conversant with conditions in which other aid in the way of merchandise and clothing is given in addition to an order," he said.

REPORT FAVORABLY ON NOMINATION OF SANBORN AS JUDGE OF SNOW STORM

Washington, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—The nomination of John B. Sanborn, Minnesota, to be judge of the 8th circuit court was ordered reported favorably to the senate today by the senate judiciary committee. The action virtually assures confirmation.

At the same time a senatorial inquiry into charges made against the fitness of Judge James H. Wilkerson, Illinois, nominated to be judge of the 7th circuit court, was ordered by the committee. A sub-committee of five, composed of Republican Senators Borah, Idaho, Blaine, Wis., and Robinson, Ind., and Democrats, Walsh, Mont., and Dill, Wash., was appointed to investigate protests which have been received against Wilkerson, author of the Daugherty anti-labor injunction ten years ago. Wilkerson was the judge who sentenced Alphonse Capone to prison.

Similar action was taken on the nomination of Kenneth McIntosh to be circuit judge of the 9th circuit. A few protests have been received against him. Senators Blaine, Rep. Wis., Schall, Rep. Minn., and Bratton, Dem., N. M., were appointed to consider the protests.

Fights Contract, Trade of Lots for Stocks

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—A battle of affidavits was staged today between Mary E. Vorse, aged soldiers home inmate, and the Minnesota Community Builders Inc., in district court.

Mrs. Vorse is attempting to rescind a contract by which she traded stocks and bonds for 16 lots in Superior, Wis. Two affidavits and three answers were filed by the defense. In one affidavit Thomas W. Wahl, Duluth real estate man, places the value of the six corner lots involved, at $300 each, and the inside lots, at $225 each.

LABOR, RAIL HEADS PROCEED SLOWLY IN WAGE SLASH PLANS

Chicago, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—The stubborn task of breathing life into a 20 billion dollar industry and bettering the condition of its workers while cutting their pay engaged railroad capital and labor today.

Negotiations of nine railroad presidents and 21 labor executives proceeded slowly as point by point they considered the effect of a 10 per cent wage slash suggested to relieve the distressed industry and provide stabilized work for 1,900,000 union employees.

An air of confidence was given the complicated discussions when Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio, announced that pending outcome of the conference notice of a 15 per cent wage cut due to take effect Jan. 21 would be suspended.

The railroads also gave assurance that no efforts to negotiate directly with the individual unions would be made until the general conference has been concluded.

A careful examination of the railroad attitude toward the union requests for various improved employment conditions was expected today.

Labor leaders were inclined to believe, it was reported, that the executives were employing a form of strategy and have couched their position in strong language in hope of obtaining concessions from the unions.

Willard in general terms outlined this attitude which was characterized as "generally favorable" by David B. Robertson, chairman of the railway labor executives.

LA FOLLETTE-COSTIGAN MEASURE TO RECEIVE FAVORABLE REPORT

Washington, Jan. 8.—(U.P.)—The La Follette-Costigan unemployment relief bill which would appropriate $375,000,000 for direct relief out of the federal treasury, was approved today by a senate sub-committee.

The sub-committee voted to report the bill immediately to the full manufacturers' committee.

Four members of the sub-committee voted in favor of the measure: Chairman La Follette, Independent Republican, Wisconsin; Cutting, Republican, New Mexico; Costigan, Democrat, Colorado; and Wheeler, Democrat, Montana. The fifth member of the committee, Hatfield, Republican, West Virginia, was not present. It was understood, however, that he would have voted against the measure.

The bill proposes that the relief fund be allocated to states under a complicated system based on state needs and measures already taken to provide self-help.

A meeting of the full manufacturers' committee was called within a few minutes after the sub-committee action.

The full manufacturers' committee was unable to get a quorum and adjourned until Thursday. The bill will be considered then.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE CHEERS HOOVER AS "A SINCERE DRY" AT CONVENTION

Washington, Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—President Hoover was cheered wildly today at the Anti-Saloon League convention when he was referred to as "a sincere dry."

The Rev. John H. Phillips of Hartford, Conn., told the convention that with Mr. Hoover in the White House the drys "can hold the fort until the Duponts and John J. Raskob get tired of throwing their money away."

The delegates arose and cheered enthusiastically.

The Rev. Henry H. Crane, Scranton, Pa., pleaded for an "awakening" to prohibition as a moral, rather than an economical, industrial or political issue.

The Canadian system of controlling liquor traffic, put forward by many anti-prohibitionists as a method which the United States should follow, was described as a failure by two Canadian temperance workers who addressed the convention.

Ira A. Pierce, secretary of the Quebec League Against Alcoholism, said that consumption of hard liquor in Quebec has increased 38 per cent in the past six years. The increase for

HUNDREDS CLING TO ROOFS AND HIGH KNOLLS AS FLOOD WATERS INUNDATE SOUTH

Jackson, Miss., Jan. 18.—(U.P.)—A further rise of flood waters in the Tippo basin added to the peril of more than 2,000 persons marooned on roofs, levee tops and every available high spot as they awaited rescue today.

Hundreds of shivering and hungry families spent a night of horror clinging precariously to roofs or huddled together on high knolls as black waters slashed at their feet. Rescue workers, halted by darkness, marshaled forces for new excursions into the basin.

CEREAL RELIEVED HIS CONSTIPATION

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brought New Health

"Every one who has suffered from constipation should read Mr. P. M. Fisher's letter:

"For many years I suffered from constipation and used, for relief, all kinds of laxatives. After a few days' treatment, I would only find my condition the same as before and at times worse.

"Some time ago I started to use Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly, once a day as directed. Since doing this, I have found that I do not need any other medicine to procure the desired result, and it keeps me in a very healthful condition."—Mr. P. M. Fisher, 352 Evergreen Place, Ridgewood, N. J.

Constipation is caused by lack of two things in the diet: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines; Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN supplies both—and also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears out the wastes.

Equally tasty as a cereal, or used in cooking. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

(By Mrs. W. C. Cobb)

When asked why he omitted one number on his program, Maurice Dumesnil, the Musical Club's artist pianist at their Sunday concert at the high school auditorium, said he didn't know that there was a published program, so he played as the spirit moved him. It evidently moved him to start with the strictly classical form, the Beethoven "Moonlight Sonata," then pass to the freer forms utilized by Chopin (Ballade, Mazurka, Polonaise and Waltz) then on to a couple of pieces of "program music," "Reflections in the Water," and "Cape Walk," by the unorthodox Debussy, then to a still more descriptive piece, by Jacques Ibert, called "The Little White Donkey."

Just to show "how they write music today," he gave an ultra modern number by Francis Poulenc, "Perpetual Motion." He closed with the brilliant "Rhapsody No. 11" by Liszt, the ultra modernist of the 19th century. For encore, he gave another Chopin waltz, in the Adagio of the Moonlight Sonata, the melody seemed etched, it stood out so clearly from its accompaniment background. In the Allegretto, his staccato notes were crisp and sure, and in the closing movement the Presto agitato, his runs were clear and brilliant, his chords clean cut.

But the sonata form allows little liberty to the interpreter. It was evident that Dumesnil loved Chopin better because his freer form gave more freedom of interpretation. It so happened that the reviewer had studied all of the Chopin numbers (except the unpublished waltz) and realized how much liberty he took with textual directions. Like Liszt, he plays with "an endless caprice of color and shading," according to his mood.

The artist explained his reasons for believing that the manuscript which he secured from a priest on one of his visits to South America was a genuine Chopin composition. He said that during Chopin's stay in the convent on the island of Majorca, where he went to recover his health, he made many musical sketches which fell into the hands of the priests in the convent. But Dumesnil declared that the strongest evidence was internal. Chopin had such individuality that it could not be imitated. After the unpublished number, he played the brilliant waltz Op. 34 and did it magnificently.

"Reflections in the Water" were playful and rippling—not at all tragic, as they might have been written in his year of the great depression. The "Cape Walk" started out in strict cake walk rhythm, but soon began to take on variations characteristic of Debussy. In Ibert's "Little White Donkey," you could almost visualize the patient little donkey trotting along—albeit you couldn't be sure that it was white. The less said about the ultra modern number the better, but too much cannot be said of the Liszt Rhapsody. Indred in spirit, he performed this number to the satisfaction of all Liszt lovers. The many handfull of chords were at once clear and sonorous. The "spring" runs were brilliantly taken, the spirit seemed to move Maurice Dumesnil to do his best for Brainerd.

How to Reduce Colds and Their Costs This Winter One of Family's Biggest Problems Met With Vick "Control-of-Colds" Plan

Actual Test of the Plan Is Offered by Brainerd Druggists On a Trial Guarantee.

To most families this winter, the high costs of colds are an extra burden. Loss of time, health and money are involved. To reduce the drain of his burdensome family "Colds-Tax" is the purpose of the Vick Plan for better "Control-of-Colds" — to lessen their number, severity and duration.

Plan Follows New Discovery. The Vick Plan is made possible with Vicks VapoRub. Based on a new idea for "preventing" colds, this new Vick discovery is companion to Vicks VapoRub, the modern way of "treating" colds. Each aids and supplements the other for better "Control-of-Colds."

Here, briefly, is the Vick Plan:
1—Before a Cold Starts. Watch yourself whenever you have been exposed to anything that you now are apt to give you a cold, such as—
Contact with others having fresh colds — crowds, stuffy, ill-ventilated rooms, public places—a night on a Pullman or a dusty automobile ride — sudden changes in temperature — inhaling smoke, dust, gases—excesses in living, such as over-eating, smoking or drinking, which reduce body resistance—after a hard day when you are over-tired.

Then—if you feel that stuffy, sneezy irritation of the nasal passages, Nature's usual signal that a cold is coming on—use Vicks Nose Drops at once—just a few drops on each nostril. Repeat every hour or so if needed. This will prevent many colds by stopping them before they get beyond the nose and throat—where most colds start.

2—After a Cold Starts. At night, massage the throat and chest well with Vicks VapoRub (now available in white "stainless" form, if you prefer). Spread on thick and cover with warm flannel. Leave the bed-clothing loose around the neck so that the medicated vapors arising can be inhaled all night long.

ALL STAR MERCHANTS BATTLE HOLDINGFORD WEDNESDAY

INDEPENDENT CAGE TEAMS TO PROVIDE CLASSY ENCOUNTER

FORMER ALL STATE FORWARD TO LEAD VISITORS IN ACTION

Led by Siebenandt, formerly of St. John's and all state forward, the Holdingford quint will appear on the Washington high school floor Wednesday night against the Brainerd Merchants. Brainerd's all star independent cagers will battle for a victory to even scores with the Holdingford team, winners recently by a 26-16 count over Brainerd at Holdingford.

Holdingford will bring the following players to Brainerd: Botz, Siebenandt, forwards; Ehrnst, center; Meir, Compton, Winkle, guards.

A "Who's Who" on the Brainerd Merchants basketball team is listed: Vernon Marshall, all regional guard last year. Marshall did not come into his own until his last year in the high school because of injuries. He developed into a fine floor man and an accurate shot. He is captain of the team.

John Gabiou, guard on the district champions of 1928. He has been playing independent basketball since his graduation. He is coach of this year's team.

Earl Fuller, guard on the district champions. He has been playing independent basketball since his graduation. He is a versatile and steady player.

Bernard Foster, guard on the high school team for two years. Foster played on the independent team last year. He is a valuable man to the squad.

Nate Schuetz, guard on the high school team last two years. Schuetz is remembered in high school basketball for the two free throws in 1930 that won a C-I game. He is a cool and steady player.

Arthur Hautala, forward for two years in high school. "Hot" attended the U. of M. and played intra-mural basketball. He is fast and has led the scoring in every team that he has played on.

Joe Fitzharris, center and forward on this year's team. Fitz has played independent basketball for two years. He played in the Commercial league in Minneapolis.

Lawrence Swanson, forward for two years on the high school team. Swanson has developed into a clever floor man.

Carroll Guin, center for three years on the high school team. Was named on the regional team in 1928. He is the manager of the team.

James Garvey, guard on the high school team for two years. He played independent basketball for one year. Tippy Cochran, a newcomer in Brainerd basketball. Plays center. Formerly starred for the Manhattan Travelers of Manhattan, Kan.

Tickets for the game will be sold at Blanke's store, the Y. M. C. A. and by any member of the Brainerd team.

STRONGER RESERVE STRENGTH PLACES ATHLETICS IN ENVIABLE POSITION

Chicago, Jan. 18.—(UP)—The dethroned world champion Philadelphia Athletics are not going to give up their American league title any easier than they did their laurels last fall. The Athletics are not entering the 1932 race with a broken down machine which will be easily swept aside by a new champion.

Connie Mack seems to have a stronger team to start the coming season than he did for the start of 1931 because of:

1. Stronger reserve strength.
2. Improved pitching.
3. Prospects of better shortstop play.

And as long as the A's have three pitchers of the calibre of Grove, Earnshaw and Walberg and two hitters of the like of Simmons and Cochran they will remain dangerous pennant contenders.

The most important change in the Athletics will be the replacement of Joe Boley at shortstop by young D.

Norwegian Establishes New Ski Record

Chicago, Jan. 18.—(UP)—Kaar Walberg, of the Norwegian Olympic Ski team, established a new record in winning the Class A championship in the Norge Ski club's annual tournament on the Cary hill slide at Fox River Grove from a field of 13 other entrants yesterday. He twice broke the record, leaping 174 and 183 feet. The former record was 173 feet made last year by Casper Oimen, national champion. Birger Ruud, Norway, and Gutorm Paulsen, Chicago, finished second and third.

CF—Haas.....323
RF—Miller.....281
C—Cochran.....249
With Roettger, McNair who batted .271 last season, and Boley as infield reserves and Cramer, Johnson and Coleman as outfield reserves, Connie Mack has more capable replacement than he did last season. Coleman batted .358 last season, finishing second against Pacific coast league batsmen. Johnson batted .331.

MICHIGAN MEETS ILLINOIS; IOWA PLAYS INDIANA

IF WILDCATS WIN TONIGHT, THEY WILL CLASH FOR FIRST WITH OHIO STATE SATURDAY

Chicago, Jan. 18.—(UP)—Northwestern, defending Big Ten basketball champion, will attempt to continue its undefeated march tonight when the Wildcats meet Wisconsin at Madison in the second game of this season between the two teams.

Northwestern has won four straight games and is tied with Ohio State, which has won three and lost none, for the Big Ten lead. Ohio State is idle tonight and can go into undisputed possession of first place if Wisconsin topples Northwestern. In the opening game of the season Northwestern beat Wisconsin, 31-30, in an overtime battle.

If Northwestern wins tonight, the Wildcats will collide with Ohio State at Evanston Saturday in a battle for first place.

There is a 4-way tie between Michigan, Minnesota, Purdue and Illinois for third place, but one team will drop out of the deadlock tonight as Illinois plays Michigan at Ann Arbor. The other game tonight brings together Iowa and Indiana at Bloomington, with the Hoosiers favored to win first game and abandon the cellar to Chicago and Iowa, neither of which has scored a victory.

The standing follows:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Northwestern	4	0	1.000
Ohio State	3	0	1.000
Minnesota	2	1	.667
Michigan	2	1	.667
Illinois	2	1	.667
Purdue	2	1	.667
Wisconsin	1	3	.250
Chicago	0	2	.000
Iowa	0	3	.000
Indiana	0	3	.000
Indiana	0	4	.000

Saturday's Results
Northwestern 21; Michigan 20.
Ohio State 40; Iowa 23.
Wisconsin 24; Chicago 18.
Minnesota 37; Indiana 35.

This Week's Games
Tonight:
Northwestern at Wisconsin.
Illinois at Michigan.
Iowa at Indiana.
Saturday:
Chicago at Illinois.
Michigan at Minnesota.
Ohio State at Northwestern.

REGIONAL TOURNEY DRAW FOR STATE H.S. COMPETITION MADE

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 18.—(UP)—The regional tournament draw for the first day's play in the 20th annual state high school basketball tournament to be played at the Minnesota field house, March 17 to 19, was announced today by O. E. Smith, secretary, through the United Press.

In the first game of the tournament, which will start at 3 o'clock, March 17, the winner of regional eight, to be played at Bemidji, plays regional three winner, which tournament is staged at Montevideo.

The second game of the tournament finds the Winona regional winner (No. 1) playing the Alexandria (No. 6) winner.

In the evening at 8 o'clock the St. Cloud tourney winner (No. 5) plays the winner of the Eveleth (No. 7).

The final game of the first day finds the winner of the regional to be played in St. Paul (No. 4) taking on the winner of the Fairmont regional (No. 2). State board of directors voted to retain the same officials that worked the tournament last year, John Getchell, Minneapolis; George Lynch, St. Cloud, and Edward Dahl, Winona. They also voted not to lower admission prices this year.

DANIELS TO GIVE LASKY BIG TEST

Minneapolis, Jan. 18.—(UP)—Art Lasky, Minneapolis heavyweight, tonight will meet his first serious obstacle as well as test in Dick Daniels, Minneapolis.

Lasky, a newcomer, with an impressive string of knockouts behind him, is favored over Daniels whom sports followers believe is on the way down. Betting odds favored Lasky by 10 to 7.

Lasky recently made an impressive showing against former heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey in a two round exhibition bout. Other bouts on the fight card include Marian Matuzak, Chicago vs Grant Shade, Des Moines and Johnny Early, Minneapolis, vs Spud Murphy, Moorhead.

WARRIORS PLAY TWO OUT OF CITY GAMES THIS WEEK; FARGO HERE SATURDAY NIGHT

Three stiff basketball games face the Brainerd high school Warriors this week.

The Warriors go to Little Falls tomorrow night and to Staples Friday night. The Fargo, N. D., team will come here Saturday night, playing the Warriors on the Washington high school floor.

The out of the city games will be played on smaller floors against teams that have been winning home games. Staples' floor is an improvement over the last time Brainerd played there, due to improvements made after a fire there last summer.

The Little Falls floor is almost square shaped with the baskets about a foot from the end walls. The ceiling is low and the seating capacity small.

Little Falls is difficult to defeat on its own floor more so than on a larger floor. The same applies to Staples. Both teams are threats to the district championship.

The Falls team recently defeated St. Cloud Tech-High at Little Falls. The Granite City boys are stronger this year than for several years.

The Warriors face the week of play knowing they will encounter fast competition.

RED DEVILS DEFEAT RANGERS AT HOCKEY OPENER HERE SUNDAY BY 3 TO 1 COUNT

The Brainerd Red Devils flashed through to win over the Crosby-Ironton Rangers here Sunday by 3-1 in the opening hockey game of the season on the South 10th street rink.

The game, a fast exhibition of the ice sport, was witnessed by more than 300 fans and insured hockey a definite place in Brainerd sports.

A. Graff took scoring honors of the game. He found the C-I help for a goal after four minutes of play in the first period and sunk the puck for a goal after eight minutes of play in the third period.

Cheney scored the other goal for Brainerd one minute after Sedlam of Crosby-Ironton scored the range's only goal in 18 minutes of play in the second period.

Fox of Brainerd stopped a total of 12 hard drives at long range, four in the first, two in the second and six in the third period. Collins, Rangers' goalie, stopped three shots from close in.

McIntosh, Brainerd left wing, received a knee cap injury by a flying puck. He is expected to be in condition, however, for the Brainerd invasion of Crosby-Ironton next Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The lineup:
Gabiau.....C.....Blom
A. Graff.....RW.....Sedlund
McIntosh.....LW.....R. Johnson
L. Cramer.....RD.....J. Johnson
Roldal.....LD.....Erickson
Fox.....G.....Collins

Spares—Brainerd, H. Graff, r. d. Cheney, l. w. Flansburg, r. w.; Crosby-Ironton, Backen, c., Hjalmer, r. w.

Referee, Lee, Brainerd; time keeper, Carlson; judges, Mayberry and Wilmer.

An exhibition of fancy and clown skating was given by Earl and Clair Bedal during the intermission of periods. The skaters will display their abilities during each home hockey game.

NEW BASEBALL PARK HERE TO BE TALKED AT MEETING TONIGHT

Baseball officials here will discuss plans for a new ball park at a meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A.

A committee will be appointed to handle plans. A location has been suggested and plans will be discussed to move the grand stand if the site can be purchased or leased.

Unemployed men in Brainerd, receiving community fund aid, may be sought to assist in the moving of the stands, officials said.

City league baseball players and fans are invited to attend the meeting.

MORRISON VICTOR IN AGUA CALIENTE GOLF TOURNAMENT

Agua Caliente, Baja California, Jan. 18.—(UP)—Fred Morrison, who was born and reared in southern California and learned his golf there, had $5,000 today to prove that he was the first far west player ever to win a big Pacific coast money tournament.

He shot a 73 in the final 18 hole match yesterday to win the $15,000 Agua Caliente open, the world's richest golf stake.

Added to his 69 of Wednesday when he led the opening round, his 74 of Thursday and his 68 of Saturday, it gave him a total of 284, two strokes better than his nearest competitor.

The Los Angeles, San Francisco and Agua Caliente open tournaments, big paying contests of the coast, never had been won by a far west player before. In breaking this tradition Morrison finished ahead of a big tournament for the first time.

Second to Morrison was Gene Sarazen, New York, who received $2,500 with a 286. At that figure he was two under par for the four rounds with his first round 70 and three additional rounds of 72 each.

Third was Olin Dutra, Brentwood, with 287. He won $1,500.

To Match Sharkey With Steve Hamas

New York, Jan. 18.—(UP)—Jack Sharkey of Boston probably will defend his American heavyweight championship against Steve Hamas, former Penn State football star, in a 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden in February, Hamas' manager, Charley Harvey, announced. He said the match might be signed this week.

After conferring with Jimmy Johnston, manager of boxing at the Garden, Harvey last night issued a challenge, on behalf of Hamas, for Sharkey's American title.

Harvey promised he would not match Steve with another opponent until Sharkey had accepted or rejected the challenge.

Champion Race Driver Injured in Mishap

Los Angeles, Jan. 18.—(UP)—In a spectacular crash during the running of a 40-lap race at Ascot speedway yesterday, Ernie Triplett, champion race driver of the Southwest for 1931, and Charles Gelston, 32, another veteran of the track, were critically injured.

Triplett was out in front at the start of the event when his machine skidded. In an attempt to avoid a collision, "Howdy" Wilcox, next in line, turned out and his racer hurtled a rail, but he escaped injury in the wreck.

BRAINERD'S FIRE LOSS--
Fighting fires that resulted in but a total loss of $21,641.76 for only $8,423 in salaries in 1931 is the enviable record established by the Brainerd fire fighting forces. This bespeaks the excellent and efficient force of fire-fighters in the employ of the city. These figures are particularly significant in view of the fact that in 1930 the fire loss was nearly twice as great with $42,000.

Records of the Brainerd fire department show 98 alarms were answered, indicating an average loss of $210 per fire. Wages paid city firemen appears as a paltry sum compared to other cities the size of Brainerd.

Inspection and investigation of fires in a systematic and comprehensive way is responsible for curbing the fire loss in Brainerd. The dominant feature of the record is the possibility to secure lower fire insurance rates, a feature that should impress the business man and merchant.

WASHINGTON'S PICTURE--
Probably it is too bad that New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art had to cast aspersions on the famous painting of George Washington crossing the Delaware within a few weeks of the 200th anniversary of Washington's birth. Granting that the picture was artistically defective, it is probably one of the most widely known paintings in North America; and it will be, for years to come, whether art critics assail its merit or not.

And that, by a somewhat round-about route, leads one to wish that the camera, especially the movie camera, could have been invented a couple of centuries earlier than was really the case.

This painting, like many others, owes its existence to our intense desire to have history illustrated. It isn't enough to read about things; we want to see, we want to know exactly how things looked at the moment they were happening. To read about Washington's dramatic thrust at Trenton is exciting. To see a picture of it, even though a poor picture, is better.

So we get such paintings, and grow fond of them, even though we know that they are bad paintings.

But what wouldn't we give for a few photographs! Some photographs of Washington himself, for example. We have plenty of paintings, but they don't quite make him clear to us. They contain too much of the painter; they look too noble; they don't quite come alive. If only some newspaper photographer could have caught him, say, when he was chatting with LaFayette, or when he was at ease in some inn, or when he was leading his troops into action!

And the newsreels would be priceless. If we had just a few smudged feet of blurry film showing the ragged Continentals on the river bank above Trenton, this painting would never have had to come into existence. Half a reel of Valley Forge would be worth all the Revolution paintings in the world. History would be living stuff, in that case.

But we have none of these; so, in spite of the Metropolitan, we'll continue to be fond of this heavily criticized painting.

HUNTING DUCKS--
The huge size of the army of duck-hunters that invades the marsh and lake regions of the United States every year was never better revealed than by the recent discovery that ducks on a certain lake in Minnesota are actually dying of lead poisoning.

Thousands of ducks on this lake died in a short space of time. When scientists made an investigation, they found in the gizzard of each dead duck a quantity of lead shot. Charges fired at the ducks had lodged in the muddy bottom of the lake, and the ducks, digging into the ooze for food, had eaten the pellets.

The investigators asserted that the lake's bottom contained many tons of lead.

Could there be more striking evidence of the vast numbers in which duck-hunters sally forth each autumn?

FAST FREIGHT TRAINS--
One of the ways in which the railroads plan to hit back at the motor trucks which have taken so much business away from them was cited recently in Detroit by Julien L. Eysmans, traffic vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, who declared much speedier freight train schedules are now being worked out.

"Freight trains," remarked Mr. Eysmans, "can be made to run on just as fast schedules as passenger trains, if sufficiently attractive inducements to do so arise."

His implication is that the job is going to be done; and it sounds like an eminently sensible way of meeting the problem. Trucks have taken business from the railroads because, in many instances, they can move the freight from shipper to consignee more rapidly. By matching their speed the railroads would overcome the trucks' greatest advantage.

The English administrator of India who, when called to account by Parliament for peculations from the natives, asserted that he was astonished at his own moderation, evidently has nothing whatever in common with certain modern politicians.

Testimony unearthed by the Seabury investigation in New York showed that there are politicians today who will take everything that isn't actually nailed down. Now, to cap the climax, comes evidence from the Chicago sanitary district graft trial, showing that big-hearted spenders paid out more than $100,000 of public money for hardware worth $40,000.

When pails are paid for at $100 a dozen and ordinary brushes sell for $1.075 each, it is obvious that some politician has freed himself from all restraint. The American people are getting some shocking new revelations of the length to which municipal graft can go.

Writing in the Decatur, Ill., Review, the editorial writer says: "Every time I see at the end of a funeral notice a statement that the 'family requests that no flowers be sent' it looks to me as though some relative or friend was either lacking in respect for his or her dead or just did not want to be put to the bother of writing an acknowledgement of the flowers and that amounts to the same thing. As I look upon this matter, those who send flowers to a funeral do it through a feeling of high regard for the person who has passed on. The sender of flowers perhaps does not know another single member of the family. He sends the flowers through genuine friendship. It is his way of telling the world that the deceased had at least one friend who was willing to spend a dollar or two on him when there was no possible chance of the compliment ever being returned."

THREE KINDS OF LOVE

BY KAY CLEAVER STRAHAN

age, and she goes in strong for all this hokey about love and tripe like that.

"You aren't homey," said Ann. "You're a really could not remember what he had looked like in the light and had a impression, only of cleanliness and blond youthfulness. 'And you are young, too.'"

"Young, too," said, "but not too young," and paused to be pleased with his epigram. "I'm not so young at that," he resumed. "I'll be 23 next November. That's only five years younger than you, and what's a few years between friends?"

Letty had said, "Phil's told me a lot about you." It seemed odd to think of these strange people, Mr. Smith, and Letty King, and Phil, as friends. What a world!

"Say," he said, "you aren't so at me, are you, for pulling that about your age? When a girl is as pretty as you are she's—she's kind of useless. You know what I mean? I didn't think."

"No," she said. "That was all right, of course." Think. She had to think. She had not done any thinking at all as yet. Her heart must be broken. It would need to be broken. She must think about that. "Tell me about yourself, won't you?" she tossed to him to play with, so that he would stop bothering her. He had no time to think.

THE university hadn't been so hot. She was probably numb, or whatever it was that people were from pain and shock, and the ache and the hurt would begin later. Collecting rents, looking after dad's interests. Matter liked to have him stick around, now that dad was gone. . . . This strange feeling of freedom, this sense of escape, couldn't have anything to do with heartache. Letty's folks had lived next door to them before her old man got caught in the crash. Too bad, it had given Letty a taste for things. . . . It was a good thing. Letty's folks had not to have to ride home with Phil and quarrel and quarrel. Odd, she didn't feel furiously angry with Phil; not any longer. Odd, she didn't feel so much of anything. Numb? Not too exactly. Excited? That would pass. She was not lonely, as yet. She was not sad. She would be, later.

The edges of the road were lighted now: fruit and vegetable stands were spreading on either side; places to eat—Chicken—Chicken—Chicken. Places to dance; places to get gasoline; bright, bright lights—but with big dark spaces crouching among them.

"Or," he laughed, "wouldn't you know about that?"

Ann started. For more than a mile she had not heard a word that he had said. "I'm afraid I wouldn't," she answered.

"Gee!" he said. "You're great! I'll tell the world that's the best swap I ever made in my life, and I'm a same swapper, yellow-haired boy, if I do say so."

"I hope," said Ann, "that I haven't made a lot of trouble for you and Miss King and that you get things a little better out."

"Not a chance," he interrupted. "I acted like the devil back there on road, but that was because I was sore at being a monkey of—something more or less. I used to talk pretty rough. I didn't know you then. Sorry and every thing."

"It's all right. I think you had reason enough to be angry."

"I'll say I did. But so I'd you. All that lovey-darling boloney—on purpose for you to hear. But you're a sore."

"Yes, I think I was. I've forgotten."

"Any girl who'd do that to an other girl, born in like that and all, is a bum sport. It's not square shooting. It's rotten—that's what it is."

There was the explanation. There was the reason she was not suffering—not heartbroken. Phil had not been sporting—he had lied to her. He was not a square shooter. He was rotten. If she could remember that—not sporting, not a square shooter, rotten—perhaps! Could forestall the heartache on this. And the loneliness? And the long days coming on to long, long evenings? And the long, long life? She had forgotten that life, all of life was ahead. Life without Phil? But that, too, could come later.

"Or," Kenneth said, "wouldn't you know about that, either?"

His voice had been going on, all this while. What had he been saying? What had she said before? "Well, yes," she answered, "I might possibly know about that."

"Gee! But you are great. You are—well, if I do say it, you are absolutely the most different girl I ever met in my life."

How restless this boy, this funny, impossible boy, was. How easily pleased. How uncritical. There was a poem she had read. She had liked it well enough to copy it; she had had Mary-Frances in mind. Though it did not entirely suit Mary-Frances, and it did suit this boy. How had it gone? "Innocently wicked—innocently wise. Innocently impudent—innocently gay. . . . That was what this Kenneth was, now that he was over being cross. He was gay. Gay. The rest of the poem, after that? Something about youth being an alien race speaking an alien tongue, and then the lines for Mary-Frances, "These are the darlings of my heart; These Jerry W. Flicker has been quite sick with grippe but is improving.

John Moor of Royaltown returned home yesterday after having brought up a fine driving team which he sold to Prosper Arnold.

Mrs. Frank Daubenberger and Miss Gretchen Daubenberger, of McGregor, Ia., arrived in the city this afternoon and are visiting at the home of Mrs. N. H. Ingersoll.

Yesterday was a remarkable day in the history of the office of the register of deeds. There was not a single instrument filed for record. This is something that has not occurred before in at least eight years, according to Mr. Trommald, and probably in a much longer time.

Cleen White, son of C. E. White, is making quite a reputation as a billiard player. He now has the record for the longest run made by any local player at the Ransford parlor. In a recent game, he made a run of 49. He can hold his own with the best players in the city it is said, and, as one player remarked, if he would stop monkeying with pool he would make a phenomenal player.

N. P. REIMBURSED FOR STOLEN TIN, SOLD DOWN RIVER

A 20 months search for the "fence" who accepted black tin stolen from the Northern Pacific shops at Brainerd ended today and the value of the tin, $800 reimbursed the railway company.

Sentenced at Falls

Nate Dinner, Little Falls, pleaded guilty when arraigned at the Falls to receiving the stolen property and was sentenced to St. Cloud reformatory to two years and ordered to pay a fine of $250. The court ordered the reformatory sentence suspended after Dinner made restitution with the Northern Pacific railway.

Dinner's assistant, Eugene Bowls, who also pleaded guilty to receiving stolen property was sentenced to serve six months in the Morrison county jail and fined $50. The jail sentence was suspended since Bowls turned state evidence.

The history of the investigation dates back to May 10, 1930 when Robert Turner, Harold Holly and Charles Gunion, later convicted, entered the Northern Pacific shops here and stole 1100 pounds of black tin. Turner was sentenced to one to ten years at St. Cloud reformatory, Holly, one to ten years at Stillwater and Gunion to two years at Stillwater.

Paroled From Stillwater

Holly who turned state's evidence was paroled from Stillwater last week after serving 20 months.

Five officers investigated the case and aided in tracing where the stolen property was disposed of. These were: O. Parrishus, St. Paul, chief special agent of the N. P.; J. S. Hindman, Seattle, assistant chief special agent N. P.; C. B. Jacobson, Brainerd, special agent, N. P.; H. B. Ewan, Omaha, special agent, Northwestern Bell Telephone Co.; County Attorney A. J. Sullivan, Brainerd.

Three Spilt Loot

The officers learned that on May 11, 1930, Holly and Turner brought the tin in Turner's car to Little Falls where they sold it to Nate Dinner, receiving $220 for it. Hindman, Jacobson, H. Freisinger and Frederick Felix, the later two deputy sheriffs of Morrison county, searched the premises of Nate Dinner but was unable to find the tin as Dinner had disposed of it. On Dec. 8, 1931, Dinner and Bowls were indicted by a Morrison county grand jury for receiving stolen property. Both later plead guilty.

Evidence revealed that in the division of the spoils, Holly got $75, Gunion, 50, and Turner $95.

Foundry Reimbursement Sought
Parrishus, Jacobson and Sullivan are now investigating the market for the black tin stolen from the Brainerd Foundry on May 21, 1930. This tin weighed 1600 pounds and was valued at $702. The officers have trailed the tin to an eastern market and a settlement to the Brainerd Foundry is expected soon.

The tin was stolen from the foundry by Turner and Fred LeDoux. LeDoux was sentenced to one to ten years at Stillwater prison.

VICTIM OF GUN IS BURIED HERE TODAY

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p. m. today for Archie Lytle, 29, from the Full Gospel Assembly, Rev. Ivan Miller officiating. Interment was at Evergreen cemetery.

Lytle was the victim of a self-inflicted gun wound Saturday at his home, 213 Laurel street, in the presence of his widow, Mrs. Mamie Lytle, and four children.

The widow claimed that Lytle shot himself because he was unable to find employment to provide for their home.

Seldom do you find in a community the size of Brainerd the splendid shops and new fresh stocks of merchandise that characterize the several stores that I have visited.

Not only are the Brainerd Stores far above average in this respect, but their prices compare most favorably with the huge stores of the cities.

My column tonight is full of the new things to be seen this week and I do hope that you will look it through . . . thoroughly.

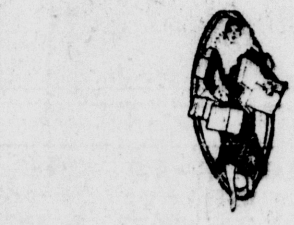

IF THERE'S ANY ONE THING

which gets on my nerves, it is a well dressed man with the collar of his shirt wrinkled and out of shape. These new shirts, with collar attached are dandy, but unless the collar is properly cut and tailored it has a tendency to run wild, curl up at the tips and thereby spoil the entire ensemble. I have seen shirts sold in Brainerd by the Peterson Clothing Company are scientifically tailored and there's no trouble about "sloppy" collars when you men wear these shirts.

WHAT'S AT THE TOP

of this stairway? Over the balustrade I saw a Nundah rug and you know how I am—always looking around for something unusual and different—so when I found a stairway leading to a balcony at the Geo. F. Murphy Dry Goods Store I hiked up just to have a look! And what a treat! I found a complete display of gifts and some of the best looking pottery. It isn't hard to shop for gifts for friends in there—you'll be sure to find something for everyone. Just drop in next time you're down—you don't have to buy something—they like to have you go in and look around.

remark recently that they have a hundred lamps in his home and still he can't find a place to read. That's all too true! So many artistic lamps have forgotten their first purpose to shed light. But some lines do combine beauty with utility. Over at the Fatsch Furniture Store you'll find just the design you are looking for—bridge, table, piano, boudoir—and you'll be able to see, too—and that's something!

WALK INTO THE

J. C. Penney Company and "browse" around among their linens, yard goods, prints and anything that suggests hand made things. Buy your materials in there and then call in your friends to sew with you—tell them about the display at Penney's, too, so they can come armed with their needle, thread, pattern and materials. You'll have a lovely afternoon and at the end of it you'll have something for yourself—maybe a dress, apron, slip, sheet—oh! I can think of numerous things that you housewives like to make. Just go into Penney's next time you're down town—but it's really worth a special trip—and see their prints, linens, etc.

I'LL WAGER THAT

in the minds of a great many Brainerd people there is the idea that one must go to Minneapolis or Chicago or New York to obtain beautiful, outstanding pieces of art work. I can't imagine anyone thinking that, however, if he or she has visited the D. E. Whitney store at 720 Front Street. You will see nothing finer, no matter how large the city, than Mr. Whitney's collection of etchings. A real favorite of mine is "Wings of the Morning" by Wiggan. Mr. Whitney has it. Also I am a lover of the famous Wallace Nutting pictures—and who isn't? There are several Nutting pictures in the Whitney display. What gifts such pictures make for friend or relative. By all means, drop in at your first opportunity and see the Whitney line of art works.

A BRAINERD LADY LOST

a check the other day—she had made it out to one of the stores in Brainerd and intended to call there and pay her account with it. Somehow the check was misplaced. It was gone and she couldn't find it, but she was a sensible lady. She immediately notified the First National Bank to stop payment on that check if it should happen to be presented at the bank. Just suppose that her check had been actual money—just another illustration of the value of keeping a checking account at the First National Bank.

I HEARD A BRAINERD

man say the other day that he is wrapping his house in a blanket of wool—you know me, I stopped to hear the rest of it—he continued, "and among other things, Balsam Wool is water-proof, fire-proof, and vermin-proof." Naturally, I bent it right down to the Hayes-Lucas Lumber Yard and found out all about Balsam Wool. It is used for insulation in the walls—heat doesn't leak out through the walls in the winter and it keeps the house cooler in the summer. Now is a good time to see the Hayes-Lucas Lumber Company about insulating your home.

YOU LADIES WHO ARE

just about driven frantic in this rush of after Christmas and New Year parties—be calm! You'll find what you're needing at the Brainerd Office Supply Company. They have a wonderfully unusual line of little party suggestions there. For instance, the other day I saw some of the cutest favors for Bridge parties! They're the kind that'll make your party remembered—you know the kind I mean!

MOTHERS.

It isn't necessary to have a great variety of things for the children's dinner and supper, but it is necessary to have the right vegetables. In planning a meal it is well to have one or two vegetables always—for variety in vegetables shop around at the Laurel Fruit Company. You'll find the season's vegetables in there and they will be fresh—that's the big thing you can depend upon when shopping at Laurel's. Have you noticed how particularly nice the lettuce and celery is this season? All youngsters like lettuce and it can be prepared in so many appetizing ways—shop around at Laurel's Fruit Store and see what they have for the table.

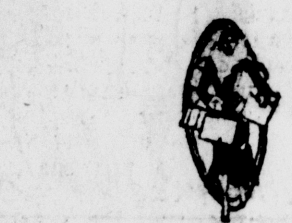

I'LL WAGER IF

you think real hard there's a birthday or an anniversary in your family this month. Now think! Didn't I tell you so? Uncle Reuben and Aunt Hepsibah have been married forty-seven years come the twenty-seventh of this month! And the next question that arises is what to do about it? Well, here's a suggestion: Get in touch with the Brainerd Greenhouse and have a bouquet sent out. No matter where they live, you can always reach them with flowers. That's what that little sign "F. T. D." means: "Floral Telegraph Delivery." It means that you can have flowers delivered to almost any point in the United States within a few hours! You'll bring just a little more happiness to them on special days by using that service, and Mr. Peterson is glad to do it!

SUGGEST THAT DAD

go back to the office some Sunday and labor most of the morning and afternoon, and see how he vetoes the idea! Then explain that that is the way Mother has to do every Sunday she prepares a huge Sunday dinner for the family! And if he doesn't take the hint, just come right out in the open and suggest going to Van's Cafe for one of their special, and extremely delicious Sunday dinners! It's mighty pleasant for Mother, and I know the whole family will enjoy it, too.

THE RECUPERATIVE POWERS of childhood make children especially responsive to any type of treatment and particularly so in osteopathic practice. Congestive throat conditions causing enlarged tonsils and adenoids, if detected at an early stage, may be corrected with a few osteopathic treatments and save the little one the strain and ill effects of several attacks of sore throat, colds, lowered vitality which comes from mouth breathing, and possibly, later, the necessity of having nose and throat operations. In Brainerd your osteopathic physician is Dr. E. C. Herzog in the Iron Exchange building.

I SIMPLY HAVE TO

tear myself away from that fascinating Hall Music House. It is so interesting and they have so many new Victor Records. And right at this time they have some very attractive records that you may be interested in.

A TREASURE HUNT!

And here's the clue that will send you burrowing right over to the Sedlock Jewelry Store in search of the very newest in costume jewelry. Finding many pieces in bracelets, earrings, necklaces and pins in the new modernistic as well as antique copies, you will be amply repaid for your search! And beads are more fashionable than ever! High colors seem to hold sway and you'll find that an unique assortment of bead necklaces and choker productions! One soon becomes a "crystal gazer" in the Sedlock Jewelry Store when looking over the ever popular crystal beads which may be had in every combination and color!

I WENT ON A QUIET

hunt this week for bridge prizes that could be purchased for one or two dollars for most of the ladies tell me that is about the amount allowed at their parties! But I'm quiet no longer—I should say not—for after a short time spent prowling around Johnson's Pharmacy I want to "tell the world" about what I found at such modest prices—many, many at only $1.00. The very cleverest sort of bath salts in gay colors and wrappings—playing cards in leather cases—candies—cosmetics—perfumes—and many other things. Mere words cannot do justice to the variety and quality, but this week why not be "bridge prize wise" and select your prizes at Johnson's Pharmacy.

IT ISN'T OFTEN

you find pasteurized milk within the reach of everyone, but you Brainerd folks can be assured of fresh and pure milk when you buy from the Russell Dairy. Since there is nothing that can take the place of milk in assuring health, bright eyesight, freedom from colds, as food for the nerves and to build and repair teeth, it is most important we give special attention to the milk supply and see that it is pure. Have a bottle of Pasteurized Milk on your step every morning. Try it and nothing else will do!

YOU CAN TALK ABOUT

service all you like, but there are very few places that put it out any more than a drug store. And that's particularly true of St. P. Dunn. I find that I usually like to trade where the clerks are courteous and interested in what I'm after. If they're pleasant and helpful, I come back, every time! At the H. P. Dunn Drug Store they either have what I want, and take pleasure in getting it for me, or they gladly tell me where I can get it. That's just one phase of their service. And I appreciate it. I was especially interested in their display of Primrose House toilet articles.

"THE DIFFICULTY WITH

most ladies," Mr. Angell of the A. & P. Store told me the other day, "is that they order the same things by telephone day after day, and don't work enough variety into their meals." That's certainly true. It's a good idea to go down to the A. & P. Food Store and see what they have. Select what you want from their shelves of canned goods and their fresh vegetables. You'll get some suggestions that will be very valuable and that you've never thought of!

Yours,

Betty Lou
